highway and the oldest inhabitant recalls the fact that "aleck" as he calls him, drank so heavily from force of habit that it ruined his life.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Gettysburg people take a just pride in their schools. The first school house near Gettysburg was a log building located near the cemetery. David Corwin taught a subscription school here and boarded around among the school patrons. Mrs. Michael Reck tells of the old days when the big boys penned the teacher out so as to induce him to treat at holiday time. The first time they did this Prof. Davy treated to beer and ginger cakes. The second time the teacher defied and resisted. He bored a hole through he corner wall, filled it with powder from his flask and smoked the boys out.

Schools, like the times, have changed. Along with comfortable homes we have modern school buildings. The Gettysburg school house, though not large, is a model of its kind, on beautiful grounds and well kept and shaded. One hundred and thirty pupils are enrolled.

Prof. John Browder is the Superintendent and also principal of the High School. A good High School Course of Study is maintained. The assistant teachers are Miss Beulah Minnich, teacher of the grammar department, Miss Bertha Martin, primary teacher.

The members of the Board of Eucation are: Mr. Z. A. Clark-President, Mr. John H. Knisley-Secretary, Mr. F. M. Van Lue, Mr. Henry Witwer, and Mr. C. R. Williams.

The P. B. MOUL STORES

THE enterprise and progressiveness of a city or town is gauged by the thrift of its business men. Instead of general merchandise stores such as were formerly in vogue in small towns, Gettysburg like her sister towns, takes a front rank in this respect in her stores being upon the departmental plan.

The P. B. Moul department store is worthy of mention in this history of Gettysburg. This store enjoys an extensive trade throughout the surrounding country and its genial proprietor is ever alert to supply the needs and desires of his many patrons.

Three large rooms covering a floor space 50 by 70 feet, comprising 3500 square feet of area, are stocked with goods. The Grocery, Dry Goods, Shoes, and China and Novelty departments are separated and systematized.

This business was first established in 1892 and was conducted until 1900 by Hershey and Moul Upon Mr. Hershey's death the store became the property of Mr. Peter B. Moul.

Mr. Moul employs two assistants to wait upon his extensive patronage.

Mr. P. B. Moul was born near Gettysburg in 1868. He was reared and educated in the vicinity of the town. After completing his education in the public schools, he taught school for six years.

He was united in marriage with Miss Mary Frances Rohr in 1893. Their home life has been a happy one. Two children have blessed the union. Their names are Lawrence, Emery and Mildred Marie Moul with his father to work at the carpentering trade for two years, receiving a compensation of $180 for the first year, and $200 for the second. On the 15th of August, 1847, he celebrated his marriage with Sarah Miller, daughter of Jacob and Polly Miller, who was a native of Darke Co., Ohio, born on the 17th of January, 1827; in 1850, he moved on his father-in-law's farm (Darke Co., Adams Township), when he farmed one year, after which he removed to Wayne Township, Sec. 31, where he had purchased 100 acres of land, for which he paid $2,000, and here is where he applied the $380 which he had earned in the two years in which he worked for his father; he has resided here ever since, making farming his business; he has added 85 acres, but sold 5 acres for town lots, leaving 180 in the farm; he also owned 80 acres in Marshall Co., Ind., his present place of residence, which is well improved, on which is a bank-barn, 70x36, a large two-story brick house, with basement story, and a large tobacco shed, all of which he has accumulated by his hard labor, assisted by his good and amiable wife; he is strictly temperate in all his habits. Mr. and Mrs. Bashor are members of the German Baptist Church, being connected with that church for upward of thirty years; he has had his full share of township offices since his residence in the county, viz.: served as Trustee of Wayne Township, three years; Supervisor four consecutive years; member of School Board twelve years. They are the parents of nine children, of whom six are living, viz.: Jacob M., born Sept. 9, 1848; Susan, born May 6, 1851; Sarah, Dec. 19, 1853; John N., Nov. 17, 1858; Mary, Aug. 3, 1861; Anna, May 14, 1864. John N. has been teaching school since he was 17 years old, and is meeting with good success; he is a live, energetic teacher.

DANIEL BOYER, farmer, grain and stock raiser, Sec. 35; P. O. Webster. Daniel, his father, was a native of Pennsylvania, born in York Co., in about the year 1800. He married Elizabeth Hoff, who is a native of the same State and county, born in 1799. Mr. Boyer followed farming in Pennsylvania, where he resided till his death, which occurred in 1847. Elizabeth, his widow, remained on the old home farm till 1867, when she came to Darke Co., and at present resides with her daughter Barbara, who married Peter Moul, Adams Township. They were the parents of eleven children, viz., Jonas, Maria, Barbara, Mannassa, Catharine, Henry, John, Samuel, Elizabeth, Aaron and Daniel. The subject of this sketch, who is a native of Pennsylvania, born in York Co., on the 25th of September, 1834, lived at home till he was about 14 years old, when he went to work for his Uncle Peter Blaser, on the farm, where he worked during the summer and autumn, and then returned home and attended school during the winter. In the spring, he hired out with a neighbor for $5 per month, where he remained till the next fall, attending the district school in the winter. He then went to York and drove team for Sultzbaugh & Quickle, drawing lumber, coal and iron, for which he received $11 per month, being the highest wages paid at that time; as he was always at his post ready for duty, being active, quick and willing, he never lacked for employment and always commanded the highest wages; he followed this business till he was 21 years old, when he became infatuated with the Western fever, thinking that he could better his condition, and, true to his nature, he started for the State of Ohio, arriving at Versailles in April, 1856, at about 3 o'clock on a dark and foggy morning, and when the conductor called out "Versailles" he grasped his carpet-bag and made for the door, and when the train came to a halt he walked out on the platform of the car, and, thinking that he was at the station, made a leap for the platform of the depot, but, alas! he missed it and landed in the ditch, with his carpet-bag on his head and his legs driven into the mud up to his knees, murmuring to himself, "Is this Darke Co., and if so, where am I? and how will I get out alive?" However, he managed to find his way out and made for a hotel, which he found and went to bed, where he slept sweetly till about 8 o'clock in the morning, when he awoke, donned his clothing, ate his breakfast, paid his bill, placed his carpet-bag on his back and started on foot for his brother Henry, who resided about four and a half miles south, in Adams Township, where he remained for three months; he worked for his brother at the carpenter's trade, after which he farmed Benjamin Bashore's farm on shares, receiving one-third of the grain. He only remained one season, when he engaged with George Hetzler to farm his land on the same terms for one season, and met with good success. On the 17th of October, 1858, he celebrated his marriage with Elizabeth Cable, daughter of John and Susana Cable; she is a native of Darke Co., Ohio, born on the 6th of October, 1841. He remained on the Hetzler farm for about five years, during which time Mr. Hetzler died, and at the sale of the personal property he purchased most of the stock and farm implements and moved on his little farm of 55 acres, in Sec. 36, Wayne Township, for which he paid $860, and in a short time he purchased 48 acres which joined him, making in all 103 acres, which he improved, residing on the same till 1872. He then rented a farm of Levi Huddle, in the same township, containing between 500 and 600 acres, which he has under his management, and at present is the largest grain and stock raiser in the county; he now has ten head of horses and mules, forty head of cattle, one hundred head of sheep and fifty head of hogs; he grew over 3,000 bushels of small grain last year, and about 4,000 bushels of corn. In 1879, he purchased 55 acres more, for which he paid $2,000; he now owns 158 acres, valued at $7,900; he erected a frame barn, 48x78 feet, on his farm, at a cost of about $1,000. Mr. Boyer commenced life with but little of this world's goods, but by hard labor and correct business habits has accumulated a handsome little fortune, in which he has been nobly assisted by his good and industrious wife. When he married Miss Cable, her father gave her one horse, "Jack," which is still living, being 24 years old. Mr. Boyer has had his full share of township offices since his residence in the county; has served as Trustee of Wayne Township two years, Supervisor, School Director, and was a member of the School Board for a period of nine years. Mr. and Mrs. Boyer are members of the "River Brethren," a Baptist body. Ten children have been born to them, of whom nine are living, viz.: Ellen, John, Sarah, Milton, David, Maggie, Emma, Daniel, Mary.

THOMAS A. BURNS, attorney at law; Versailles, Ohio; is a native of Ohio, born in Champaign Co. on the 18th day of October, 1836; his father, H. Z. Burns, and his mother Anna, emigrated from Loudoun Co., Va., in 1830; they were well educated and sought no other fortune for themselves and children than education; his father died early in life, leaving the widow with the care of four small children; Thomas being the oldest boy, the care of the family fell heavily upon the mother and him; he struggled on through circumstances that were anything but genial to his aspiring nature; in the common schools he obtained the rudiments of an English education, and from his mother a little knowledge of German and Latin; farming and teaching school were his occupations until the sound of the war trumpet in 1861; and on the 9th day of May, he with others was assigned to the 13th O. V. I. which regiment was then over-full, and they at once reinlisted in Co. A, 66th O. V. I., of fighting fame; having held the various non-commissioned offices, he was then commissioned First Lieutenant, and in a short time he was commissioned a Captain, and took command of Co. E, 194th O. V. I., where he served till he was mustered out with his regiment on the 4th day of November, 1865, having served four years six months and twenty-five days; he at once commenced the study of law with Hon. Charles Morris, of Troy, Ohio, and was admitted to the Bar March 8, 1868. On the 26th day of December, 1867, he celebrated his marriage with Miss R. L., daughter of Hon. George Anderson, of Piqua, Ohio, and in March, 1870, he moved to Versailles, Darke Co.; he has acquired a good practice in law; he has traveled throughout the United States, been a close observer of human nature, strictly temperate in all his habits, giving much study and attention to his professional and other scientific books, and has made the most of limited opportunities. A loving wife and four bright children make up his happy home at Versailles, Ohio.
